The CEO reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of managing the business, allocating resources, making operating decisions and assessing financial performance. The Company is organized and operates as a single operating and reportable segment. The CODM assesses performance for the segment and decides how to allocate resources based on consolidated net income. The Company records deferred revenue, which represents a contract liability, when cash payments are received or due in advance of performance under a contract with a customer. The Company recognized revenue of approximately $60,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2026, and recognized revenue of approximately $411,000 and $2,097,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2025, respectively, that was included in deferred revenue at the beginning of the respective period.

7. Stock-Based Compensation

The Company uses the Black-Scholes option pricing model to calculate the fair value of stock option awards, whether they possess time-based vesting provisions or performance-based vesting provisions, and awards granted under the Vicor Corporation 2017 Employee Stock Purchase Plan ("ESPP"), as of their grant date. Stock-based compensation expense was as follows (in thousands):

8. Rental Income

VICOR CORPORATION

Income, net under the Company's operating lease agreement, for its owned facility leased to a third party in California, was approximately $284,000 for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, and $851,000 for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2026 and 2025. The initial term of the lease agreement expired on May 31, 2024 and was extended for an additional eighty-four months, commencing June 1, 2024 and ending May 31, 2031.

9. Income Taxes

The provision (benefit) for income taxes is based on the estimated annual effective tax rate for the year which includes estimated federal, state and foreign income taxes on the Company's projected pre-tax income (loss).

The provision (benefit) for income taxes and the effective income tax rates were as follows (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Provision (benefit) for income taxes	$ 15,401	$ (4,988)	$ 4,265	$ 3,278
Effective income tax rate	19.6%	(21.4)%	3.1%	4.4%

The effective tax rates differ from the statutory tax rates for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026 primarily due to excess deductions related to share-based compensation, and for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2025 primarily due to the Company's full valuation allowance position against net domestic deferred tax assets as of September 30, 2025. The provision (benefit) for income taxes for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 included estimated federal, state, and foreign income taxes in jurisdictions in which the Company does not have sufficient tax attributes.

The Company released its valuation allowance on the majority of its deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2025. The Company maintained a valuation allowance of $17,500,000 related primarily to state tax attributes as of September 30, 2026. On a periodic basis, the Company reassesses any valuation allowances that it maintains on its deferred tax assets, weighing positive and negative evidence to assess the recoverability of the deferred tax assets.

Options to purchase 1,733,948 and 1,500,723 shares of Common Stock for each of the three and nine months ended September 30, 2025, respectively, were not included in the calculation of net income per share as the effect would have been antidilutive.

11. Commitments and Contingencies

Capital Expenditure Commitments

At September 30, 2026, the Company had approximately $14,037,000 of cancelable and non-cancelable capital expenditure commitments, principally for manufacturing equipment.

SynQor Litigation and Payment of Final Judgment Amount

As previously reported in its Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Annual Reports on Form 10-K, the Company was the defendant in a patent infringement lawsuit originally filed on January 28, 2011 by SynQor, Inc. (“SynQor”) in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas (the “District Court”). SynQor alleged that certain of the Company’s products infringed certain United States Patents owned by SynQor.

On October 26, 2022, after a trial in the District Court, the jury returned a verdict finding that the Company willfully infringed one SynQor patent, and awarding SynQor damages in the amount of $6,500,000.

On May 20, 2024, the District Court issued an Amended Corrected Final Judgment, awarding SynQor actual damages of $6,500,000, enhanced damages of $4,500,000, costs in the amount of approximately $87,000, attorney fees in the amount of $9,500,000, and pre-judgment interest of approximately $5,400,000, for a total judgment of approximately $26,000,000. In addition, the District Court ordered that post-judgment interest and additional post-judgment interest would accrue until the judgment is paid, compounded annually.

Class Action Litigation in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California

On July 11, 2024, purported short sellers of the Company's stock filed a putative class action lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California styled Benjamin Pouladian et al. v. Vicor Corporation et al., case number 3:24-cv-04196. The suit was brought against the Company and the Company's Chief Executive Officer, President, and Chairman (the "Defendants"). The plaintiffs alleged violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and Rule 10b-5(b) promulgated thereunder, due to allegedly false and misleading statements during earnings calls in 2023 about the Company's commercial relationship with an existing customer. The complaint sought damages, interest and attorneys' fees and costs. The court appointed lead plaintiffs on October 24, 2024 and restyled the case as In re Vicor Securities Litigation. An amended complaint was filed on November 22, 2024 which similarly alleged purported violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5(b) promulgated thereunder. The Defendants filed their motion to dismiss the amended complaint on January 20, 2025 and, on June 6, 2025, the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California granted the motion to dismiss with leave to amend.

Settlement of Certain Intellectual Property Claims

On May 1, 2025, the Company entered into various settlement agreements to resolve lawsuits, arbitrations, and appeals related to certain intellectual property claims between the Company and certain parties, pursuant to which a total of $45,000,000 was paid to the Company in May 2025 (collectively, the "patent litigation settlement"). The Company incurred $5,100,000 in legal fees in connection with the patent litigation settlement, which were paid in June 2025.

Other Proceedings

In addition, the Company is involved in certain other litigation and claims incidental to the conduct of its business, both as a defendant and a plaintiff. While the outcome of such other lawsuits and claims against the Company cannot be predicted with certainty, management does not expect such litigation or claims will have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

12. Impact of Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In November 2024, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2024-03, Income Statement-Reporting Comprehensive Income-Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ("ASU 2024-03"), requiring public entities to disclose additional information about specific expense categories in the notes to the financial statements on an interim and annual basis. ASU 2024-03 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2027, with early adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting ASU 2024-03.

In December 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-10, Government Grants (Topic 832): Accounting for Government Grants Received by Business Entities ("ASU 2025-10"), which establishes authoritative guidance on the recognition, measurement, presentation, and disclosure of government grants. Under ASU 2025-10, government grants are recognized when it is probable that the entity will both comply with the conditions of the grant and the grant will be received. The ASU provides specific accounting models for grants related to assets and grants related to income, including options to recognize government grants as deferred income or as a reduction of the asset's cost basis. The ASU also requires enhanced disclosures regarding the nature of government grants, significant terms and conditions, accounting policies applied, and amounts recognized in the financial statements. ASU 2025-10 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2028, including interim periods within those fiscal years, with early adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting ASU 2025-10.

Other new pronouncements issued but not effective until after September 30, 2026 are not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of
Financial Condition and Results of Operations
September 30, 2026

Overview

We design, develop, manufacture, and market modular power components and power systems for converting electrical power for use in electrically-powered devices. Our competitive position is supported by innovations in product design and achievements in product performance, largely enabled by our focus on the research and development of advanced technologies and processes, often implemented in proprietary semiconductor circuitry, materials, and packaging. Many of our products incorporate patented or proprietary implementations of high-frequency switching topologies enabling power system solutions that are more efficient and much smaller than conventional alternatives. Our strategy emphasizes demonstrable product differentiation and a value proposition based on competitively superior solution performance, advantageous design flexibility, and a compelling total cost of ownership. While we offer a wide range of alternating current ("AC") and direct current ("DC") power conversion products, we consider our core competencies to be associated with 48V DC distribution, which offers numerous inherent cost and performance advantages over lower distribution voltages. However, we also offer products addressing other DC voltage standards (e.g., 380V for power distribution in data centers, 110V for rail applications, 28V for military and avionics applications, and 24V for industrial automation).

Based on design, performance, and form factor considerations, as well as the range of evolving applications for which our products are appropriate, we categorize our product portfolios as either "Advanced Products" or "Brick Products." The Advanced Products category consists of our more recently introduced products, which are largely used to implement our proprietary Factorized Power Architecture™ ("FPA"), an innovative power distribution architecture enabling flexible, rapid power system design using individual components optimized to perform a specific conversion function.

The Brick Products category largely consists of our broad and well-established families of integrated power converters, incorporating multiple conversion stages, used in conventional power systems architectures. Given the growth profiles of the markets we serve with our Advanced Products line and our Brick Products line, our strategy involves a continuing transition in organizational focus, emphasizing investment in our Advanced Products line and targeting high-growth market segments with a low-mix, high-volume operational model, while maintaining a profitable business in the mature market segments we serve with our Brick Products line with a high-mix, low-volume operational model.

The applications in which our Advanced Products and Brick Products are used are typically in the higher-performance, higher-power segments of the market segments we serve. With our Advanced Products, we generally serve large Original Equipment Manufacturers ("OEMs"), Original Design Manufacturers ("ODMs"), and their contract manufacturers, with sales currently concentrated in the data center and hyperscaler segments of enterprise computing, in which our products are used for power delivery on server motherboards, in server racks, and across datacenter infrastructure. We have established a leadership position in the emerging market segment for powering high-performance processors used for acceleration of applications associated with artificial intelligence ("AI"). Our customers in the AI market segment include the leading innovators in processor and accelerator design, as well as early adopters in cloud computing and high performance computing. We also serve applications in aerospace and aviation, defense electronics, satellites, factory automation, instrumentation, test equipment, transportation, telecommunications and networking infrastructure, and vehicles (notably in the autonomous driving, electric vehicle, and hybrid vehicle niches of the vehicle segment). With our Brick Products, we generally serve a fragmented base of large and small customers, concentrated in aerospace and defense electronics, industrial equipment, instrumentation and test equipment, and transportation (notably in rail and heavy equipment applications). With our strategic emphasis on larger, high-volume customers, we expect to experience over time a greater concentration of sales, including from intellectual property licensing, among relatively fewer customers.

Our quarterly consolidated operating results can be difficult to forecast and have been subject to significant fluctuations. We plan our production and inventory levels based on management's estimates of customer demand, customer forecasts, and other information sources. Customer forecasts, particularly those of OEM, ODM, and contract manufacturing customers to which we supply Advanced Products in high volumes, are subject to scheduling changes on short notice, contributing to operating inefficiencies and excess costs. In addition, external factors such as supply chain uncertainties, which are often associated with the cyclicality of the electronics industry, regional macroeconomic and trade-related circumstances, and force majeure events, have caused our operating results to vary meaningfully. Supply chain disruptions, including those associated with our reliance on outsourced package process steps that are essential in the production of some of our Advanced Products, and those relating, for example, to the procurement of raw material, have in the past negatively impacted and may in the future negatively impact our operating results. We have taken steps to mitigate the impact of supply chain disruptions by, among other things and in varying degrees, moving outsourced manufacturing steps in-house to the Company, ordering supplies with extended lead times, paying higher prices for certain supplies or outsourced production, and expediting deliveries at a cost premium. The resulting impact of the steps taken to mitigate supply chain disruptions has, to varying degrees and at different times, reduced our revenue, gross margin, operating profit and cash flow and may continue to do so in the future. Our quarterly gross margin as a percentage of net revenues may vary, depending on production volumes, licensing income, average selling prices, average unit costs, the mix of products sold during that quarter, and the level of importation of raw materials subject to tariffs. Our quarterly operating margin as a percentage of net revenues also may vary with changes in revenue and product level profitability, but our operating costs are largely associated with compensation and related employee costs, which are not subject to sudden or significant changes.

Summary of Third Quarter 2026 Financial Performance Compared to Second Quarter 2026 Financial Performance

The following summarizes our financial performance for the third quarter of 2026, compared to the second quarter of 2026:

- Total net revenues increased 37.5% to $197,114,000 for the third quarter of 2026, from $143,352,000 for the second quarter of 2026. Net revenues for Brick Products increased 18.4% compared to the second quarter of 2026, primarily due to improved market demand. Advanced Products net revenues increased 47.5% compared to the second quarter of 2026, primarily due to higher royalty revenue and improved market demand.
- Export sales represented approximately 36.1% of total net revenues in the third quarter of 2026 as compared to 46.0% in the second quarter of 2026.
- Gross margin for the third quarter of 2026 increased $51,560,000, or 62.0% to $134,680,000 from $83,120,000 for the second quarter of 2026. Gross margin, as a percentage of net revenues and patent litigation settlement, increased to 68.3% for the third quarter of 2026 from 58.0% for the second quarter of 2026. The increase in gross margin dollars and gross margin percentage was primarily attributable to the favorable impact from higher sales volume, including royalty revenue, and a decrease in freight-in and tariff spending of $2,240,000 (net of approximately $2,768,000 in duty drawback recovery in the third quarter of 2026 of previously paid tariffs and $11,000 in duty drawback recovery in the second quarter of 2026 of previously paid tariffs).
- Backlog, which represents the total value of orders for products for which shipment is scheduled within the next 12 months, was approximately $406,043,000 at the end of the third quarter of 2026, as compared to $379,736,000 at the end of the second quarter of 2026.
- Operating expenses for the third quarter of 2026 increased $14,290,000, or 29.6%, to $62,532,000 from $48,242,000 for the second quarter of 2026, due to an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses of $10,962,000, and an increase in research and development expenses of $3,328,000.
- We reported net income for the third quarter of 2026 of $63,321,000, or $1.33 per diluted share, compared to net income of $49,772,000, or $1.04 per diluted share, for the second quarter of 2026. Net income in the second quarter of 2026 includes tax benefits due to excess deductions related to share-based compensation.
- For the third quarter of 2026, depreciation and amortization totaled $5,532,000 and capital additions totaled $16,140,000 as compared to depreciation and amortization of $5,423,000 and capital additions of $11,173,000 for the second quarter of 2026.

Total net revenues for the third quarter of 2026 were $197,114,000, an increase of $86,691,000, or 78.5%, as compared to $110,423,000 for the third quarter of 2025. Net revenues, by product line, for the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025 were as follows (dollars in thousands):

Total net revenues	$ 197,114	$ 110,423	$ 86,691	78.5%

The increase in net revenues for Advanced Products was primarily due to higher royalty revenue due to a new license agreement entered into during the quarter ended September 30, 2026 and volume increases due to improved market demand. The increase in net revenues for Brick Products was primarily due to improved volume increases due to increased market demand.

Gross margin for the third quarter of 2026 increased $71,167,000, or 112.1%, to $134,680,000, from $63,513,000 for the third quarter of 2025. Gross margin, as a percentage of net revenues and patent litigation settlement, increased to 68.3% for the third quarter of 2026, compared to 57.5% for the third quarter of 2025. The increase in gross margin dollars and gross margin percentage was primarily attributable to the favorable impact from higher sales volume, including higher royalty revenue, and the favorable impact from production efficiencies on that higher sales volume, offset by unfavorable sales mix on the increased sales volume and slightly increased freight-in and tariff spending of $159,000 (net of approximately $2,768,000 in duty drawback recovery in the third quarter of 2026 and $712,000 in duty drawback recovery in the third quarter of 2025 of previously paid tariffs).

Facilities allocations	(641)	(73.3)%	(5)
Other, net	116	1.8%
	$ 15,816	69.5%

(1) Increase primarily attributable to legal fees associated with licensing agreements and an increase in legal activity.

(2) Increase primarily attributable to annual compensation adjustments in May 2026 and higher stock-based compensation expense associated with stock options awarded in May 2026.

(3) Increase primarily attributable to an increase in the use of consultants.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of
Financial Condition and Results of Operations
September 30, 2026

As of September 30, 2026, we had a total of approximately $14,037,000 of cancelable and non-cancelable capital expenditure commitments, principally for manufacturing and production equipment, which we intend to fund with existing cash, and approximately $7,444,000 of capital expenditure items and internal-use software which had been received and included in Property, plant and equipment, net in the accompanying Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, but not yet paid for. Our primary needs for liquidity are for making continuing investments in manufacturing and production equipment. We believe cash generated from operations together with our available cash and cash equivalents will be sufficient to fund planned operational needs and capital equipment purchases, for both the short and long term.

We do not consider the impact of inflation or fluctuations in the exchange rates for foreign currency transactions to have been significant during the last three fiscal years.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

There have been no material changes in our judgments and assumptions associated with the development of our critical accounting estimates during the period ended September 30, 2026. Refer to the section entitled "Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates" in Part II, Item 7 – "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

The Company licenses its intellectual property under right to use licenses, in which royalties due to the Company are generally based upon a percentage of the licensee's sales. For these licensing transactions, the Company utilizes the exception under the revenue recognition guidance for the recognition of sales- or usage-based royalties, in which the royalties are not recognized until the later of when 1) the customer's subsequent sales or usages occur, or 2) the performance obligation to which some or all of the sales- or usage-based royalty has been allocated is satisfied or partially satisfied. In certain right to use licenses where payment is not based on sales-or-usage-based royalties, the Company estimates consideration it expects to be entitled to considering minimum expected payments and potential price concessions. Revenue for these licenses is recognized in an amount that is probable that a significant reversal in the cumulative amount of revenue recognized would not occur. In certain right-to-use license arrangements, the Company recognizes revenue upon receipt of payment, consistent with the alternative revenue recognition model prescribed by Accounting Standards Codification 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. This policy is re-evaluated periodically based on the facts and circumstances of each licensee.

Item 3 — Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We are exposed to a variety of market risks in the ordinary course of our business, including changes in interest rates affecting the return on our cash and cash equivalents, our short-term investments and fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. As our cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments consist principally of cash accounts, money market securities, and U.S. Treasury securities, which are short-term in nature, we believe our exposure to market risk on interest rate fluctuations for these investments is not significant.

Our exposure to market risk for fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates relates to the operations of VJCL, for which the functional currency is the Japanese Yen, and changes in the relative value of the Yen to the U.S. Dollar. The functional currency of all other subsidiaries in Europe and Asia is the U.S. Dollar. While we believe the risk of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates for these subsidiaries is generally not significant, they can be subject to substantial currency changes, and therefore foreign exchange exposures. These gains or losses are recorded in “Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss)”, a component of Stockholders' Equity.

Vicor Corporation

Item 4 — Controls and Procedures

(a) Disclosure regarding controls and procedures.

As required by Rule 13a-15 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") (who is our principal executive officer) and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") (who is our principal financial officer), conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2026. The term "disclosure controls and procedures," as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2026, our CEO and CFO concluded, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the control system's objectives will be met. Accordingly, management, including the CEO and CFO, recognizes our disclosure controls or our internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect all errors and all fraud. The design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Further, because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance misstatements due to error or fraud will not occur or that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Controls can also be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the controls. The design of any system of controls is based in part on certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Projections of any control's effectiveness to future periods are subject to risks. Over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or deterioration in the degree of compliance with policies or procedures.

(b) Changes in internal control over financial reporting.

There was no change in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2026, that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
